What MITCHELL Says

I have the finest Candy ever brought to Paris for any Christmas. Not a piece but is good and tastes like more. Candy at any price and all fresh.

It would do your eyes good to look at my show cases. Never was such a display in this town before.

I want every person in the county to come and have a look.
I know you will buy.

Yours truly,
C. B. MITCHELL.

Driven to Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, ulcers, etc. Lay in a supply of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the best on earth. 25c, at Oberdorfer's

Worst Of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last?
Such was the experience of Mrs. S.
H. Newton, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insurferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered.
For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr.
King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from J. F.
McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited.
Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist.
Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c and $1.00. 1 Jan

It is strange that a woman who laughs at a foolish cat because it spits on its foot and washes its face with it up the dust in her room with a the dust settles again.

ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS.

Col. John Givens Craddock Passes Away After a Long and Useful Career.

When the news the death of Col.
John Givens Craddock, the venerable Paris editor, reached our city Saturday afternoon, you could hear the expressions of sorrow from everyone, for young and old knew him and liked him. He had lived practically all his life among us, and at all times being a welcome visitor to the firesides of every citizen of this city and county.

On the 14th day of December he was taken to St. Joseph Hospital at Lexington, suffering from the effects of a hard fall on the icy pavement and a severe cold in addition. From the first his physicians and friends believed that his recovery was hardly possible, but with the tenacity which has characterized his every action for years, he held on to life and combated with the dread destroyer, giving his friends some hope until a sudden change came early Saturday morning for the worse.

At 4:30 o'clock, when in every home of this broad land preparations were being completed for the Christmas cheer, his soul was wafted to its Creator.

Col. John G. Craddock.

Thus passes away one of the most unique characters of our State. As a newspaper man he had no equal as a gatherer of news and as a condenser; he took pride in calling himself the "paragraph editor," never writing lengthy articles. His information in regard to members of the most prominent families of Kentucky was something remarkable, as was his memory.
He had traveled more extensively throughout the United States than perhaps any other man in Kentucky, and for years had never missed a religious gathering of any note, a political convention, State or National, or any other public gathering. He was widely known throughout the country.

In politics he was always a Democrat and in religion was not a member of any church, but leaned to the Methodist, that being the church of his father and mother. In the spring of 1853 he confessed under Rev.
George O. Barnes in the big meeting this noted evangelist held in Paris, and afterwards claimed all of the churches. We believe him to have been a Christian man and has gone to receive the just rewards for such.

Col. Craddock was of a cheerful disposition, kind, truthful, charitable and the very soul of honor. As an employer to the employee no cleverer man ever lived, for the writer of this article worked for him for eighteen years, and during that period not a single unkind word can he recall that the deceased ever did or said to him; on the other hand, he can remember well the many acts of kindness and words of good advice that came from him. He was loved and respected by his entire office force. Blessed be his memory and peace to his ashes.

John Givens Craddock was born in Harrison county, near the Bourbon line, August 25, 1825. His father, Richard Clough Craddock, was a Virginian, and his mother, Ruth Givens, was born in Mecklenburg county, North Carolina. Col. Craddock had an only sister, who died when a young lady and was buried in the Paris cemetery.
He attended the common schools of his county and later began the study of medicine at Lexington in the early forties. When the Mexican War was declared and the second call for volunteers was published he volunteered and was a private in a company organized by the then Lieut.
John H. Morgan, but the company, in the lottery by which companies were drawn for service, failed to win a place. He then came to Paris and was mustered into Capt. W. E. Simms' company of volunteers, went with it to Mexico, serving throughout the war and returned safely to Paris.

Having a decided predilection for journalism, he became associated with Capt. W. E. Simms (who afterwards became a conspicuous member of the Confederate Congress), in the publication of the Kentucky State Flag. The paper was discontinued at the commencement of the Civil War and after the struggle terminated and the minds of the people began to settle into business channels, Col.
Craddock established the Paris True Kentuckian, the first number of which was issued Feb. 22, 1866. A number of years afterward Col. Craddock purchased the Western Citizen, established in 1807, both papers appearing thereafter as one—the Kentuckian-Citizen.

He was the editor and owner from the beginning until about six years ago he leased the plant to Mr. Bruce Miller, but during that time retaining a space for "Col. Craddock's Notes," which were up to the time of his late illness enjoyed by his large circle of friends. By his death the press loses its oldest and most honored editor, the printer a valued friend, and the community a kind, generous and highly respected citizen.

Col. Craddock's remains were brought here late Saturday night and lay in state at the Elks' home, until yesterday at 2:30 o'clock. At that time the procession formed, headed by the Elks' band and a large body of Elks, and proceeded to the Methodist Church, where a large crowd was in waiting notwithstanding the disagreeable weather. Rev. J. L. Clark, of the Methodist Church, Rev. Carey E.
Morgan, of the Christian Church, Rev. Dr. Rutherford, of the Second Presbyterian Church, Rev. Simmons, of the Baptist Church, and Rev. J. S.
Malone, of the First Presbyterian Church, were in the pulpit, each making appropriate and feeling remarks, as did Mr. F. L. McChesney and Mr. Green Keller, of the Carlisle Mercury, from the audience. The choir was made up of the choirs of all the churches and the singing was especially sweet. Mrs. Princess Long sang the beautiful and touching solo, "It Is God's Way," having promised Col. Craddock to sing it at his funeral after he had heard her sing it at the funeral of a friend here several months ago. "It Is God's Way," are the words that were spoken by President McKinley just after the assassin fired the fatal shot, and the song was written from this subject.

Miss Anna Bruce McClure's solo with chorus joining in was also very sweet.

On account of the hard rain the Elks' beautiful ceremony for their dead were gone through with before leaving the church.

The deceased was carried to his last resting place by those who had been associated with him in the newspaper business—F. L. McChesney, Bruce Miller, Swift Champ, J. T.
Pryor, Chas. Pothergill, J. H. Lowry, Wm. Remington and C. D. Webb.

As the coffin was being lowered in the grave the band played sweetly, "Nearer My God to Thee."

After the benediction by Rev. J. L.
Clark, we left the grave covered with beautiful flowers. May his grave ever be kept green.

STOCK AND CROP.

—A 4-year-old red steer, weighing 2,150 pounds after standing in a dry lot without water for two days was shipped from Flemingsburg to Cincinnati last week.

—The best sales of tobacco made in Montgomery county was consummated Saturday when J. W. Clay and R. H. Lane purchased 50,000 pounds of A. B. Ratliff for twelve cents straight. The crop was raised on 27 acres, and will make Mr. Ratliff an average of over $200 an acre net.
Clay also bought 23,000 pounds of Arthur Jacobs at twelve cents.

—Last week 40,000 bushels of American wheat which had been exported from the Pacific coast to Antwerp, Belgium, was bought by an American miller and is to be shipped back to this country. This is the first transaction of the kind on record. Wheat has been brought back before, not for milling purposes, but to deliver on contracts when the market was cornered. This transaction indicates a scarcity of good milling grain in this country, but has little other significance. The wheat can be brought back without payment of duties.
